ASPIRA'S MISSION

ASPIRA, Inc. of New Jersey is a private non-profit leadership development agency whose primary thrust is the development of a better educated and more committed community conscious Hispanic youth. In existence since 1968, ASPIRA recognizes the central role that education plays in the development of the Hispanic community. ASPIRA'S mission continues to include:

- A value for education
- Community awareness and participation
- The strengthening of a positive self-identity
- The development of leadership skills
- An emphasis on the important role of a viable Hispanic community
- Parental awareness of educational programs and policies that affect their children.

COUNSELING

This program is designed to meet the desperate needs of economically disadvantaged and culturally different youth who have not been given the necessary guidance and orientation related to continuing their education. ASPIRA counseling is conducted by a professional counseling staff whose function is to motivate individuals to complete their basic educational requirements and assist them in pursuing education. The counseling is focused on meeting students' particular career or vocational interests. The program also consists of workshops, conferences and assistance in securing financial aid.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

This program is based on a democratically organized and student operated state-wide network of ASPIRA Clubs. These clubs function directly out of high schools and community centers. The main objective is to establish an organizational structure of youth for the purpose of pooling resources and strength through which students can learn effective problem-solving methods that directly affect them. This organizational environment promotes a life-style that influences the aspirations, attitudes, behavior, and activities of the members.

Today's Talent-Tomorrow's Future: Our Aspirantes
ASPIRA, INC. OF NEW JERSEY
LEADERSHIP THROUGH EDUCATION

We have entered our third decade of service to New Jersey youth. We do so with a renewed commitment to the mission which the founders of ASPIRA envisioned in 1968.

The third decade of Aspira, Inc. of New Jersey brings new promises. Promises of growth for our Newark, Jersey City and Paterson programs; of blossoming for our newly established Trenton and Camden programs; and of new challenges for all as we seek to identify approaches to serve the needs of other communities.

The partnership forged among Aspira, educational institutions and the private sector has produced outstanding results. It has enhanced the lives of our Aspirantes and has produced highly qualified professionals.

Thousands of students from urban school districts have had the opportunity to participate in the Aspira Process. As a result, they have received the type of encouragement, mentoring, and educational and leadership development which has inspired them to select college and career goals.

Today, the need for Aspira is greater than ever. Aspirantes, the Board of Directors and the agency's dedicated staff invite you to continue your commitment to build for Tomorrow's Future.

By the time a child is 12 years old, he or she is old enough to improve education in New Jersey.

To you, they're school kids. To us, they're future Nobel Prize winners.

Tomorrow's AT&T scientists may be today's New Jersey
students.

Seven AT&T scientists have already won Nobel Prizes. Tomorrow's winners may be growing up in New Jersey, where we help improve education.

Scientists at AT&T
Laboratories in New Jersey and throughout the U.S.
are working to help
improve education.

To achieve this goal,
we're working with state
and local governments, community groups and the kids themselves.

And we're starting early.
By helping grade school teachers improve their skills, we're helping them teach their students better.
By awarding grants to help scientists develop new technologies, we're helping them find solutions to problems we all experience.

AT&T makes it possible for high school teachers to sharpen their skills by working alongside outstanding scientists at AT&T Bell Laboratories in Murray Hill, and AT&T's long-running Research Center at Hopewell.

At New York University,
AT&T is helping develop a new program for awarding grants for research and curriculum development and sending scientists from AT&T Bell Laboratories to work along with university professors.

And New York University is helping AT&T develop its own computer science and engineering programs throughout the state.

At AT&T we know that education is the most important thing we can do to help the future of our work today.

At AT&T we've always been committed to helping improve education in our
and communities better.

You're looking at a leader of the 21st century.

Monmouth College is an equal educational opportunity institution.

If the past and present teach us anything, it is this: The future will define a new kind of leadership. Rather than following the charismatic few, all of us must prepare to take an active part when the time is right, to share responsibility for the common good.

The question is, will you be ready?

Yes!—with the advantages of a Monmouth College education.

Monmouth College is ahead of its time in preparing students for the new definition of success.

Here, leadership and social responsibility are more than textbook abstractions. They are critical components of our core curriculum, integrated as an important aspect of college life.

Critical discourse. Collaborative problem solving. Cooperative learning. Ethical behavior—the skills and perspectives needed for effective leadership enhance our programs.

Whether you study computer science, psychology, communications, business, political science or any of the more than 45 undergraduate and graduate degree programs available in our schools of Business Administration, Arts and Sciences or Information Sciences and Technology, you graduate prepared to take your place in a multifaceted society with a strong foundation for success in your community, your personal relationships as well as your professional career.

The leaders of the 21st century are at Monmouth College today. And the future never looked brighter.

How Shakespeare can make you a better newscaster.

At William Paterson College, we believe that a liberal arts education will never become obsolete. Whatever you decide to be or not to be.

A solid understanding of Shakespeare's great works will enrich your perspective, challenge your intellect, and increase your tolerance for uncertainty.

We offer professional programs in fine arts and communication that are among the most forward-looking in the state. William Paterson's hands-on, high-tech resources, ranging from computer graphics to commercial quality broadcast facilities, are available for every student's use.

Come to William Paterson, where our emphasis on the liberal arts will prepare you for a successful career and a successful life in an ever-changing, ever-challenging world. A world where the drama of human conflict is just as powerful today as it was in the 16th century.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTIONS SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS

All McDonald's affirmative action is evidenced in every aspect of our business. From our Management Training Program to our intensive executives seminars and employee support networking, to our internal opinion surveys and our policy of promotions based on performance.

But this is not the only way we let our actions do the talking. Because opportunity for opportunity benefit to benefit, the McDonald's Corporation offers more than anyone in the restaurant industry. See for yourself:

OPPORTUNITIES

- *On-going Management Development
- *Career Advancement Potential
- *Budget Accounting Responsibilities
- *Store Marketing/Community Relations
- *Employee Hiring/Training
- *Personnel Supervision
- *Purchasing/Inventory Control

BENEFITS

- *Excellent Salaries
- *Paid Vacations/Holidays
- *Five Day Work Week
- *Performance Based Promotions/Raises
- *Dental/Medical/Life Insurance
- *Educational Assistance
- *Company Funded Profit Sharing
- *Dependent Care Reimbursement

McDonald's is always looking for energetic, ambitious men and women for our Restaurant Management Training Program. With over 10,000 restaurants worldwide and still growing strong, we need all the talent we can get.

For immediate consideration, all interested individuals should send their resumes to: Suzanne Christie, Personnel Department, McDonald's Corporation, 1455 Broad Street, Bloomfield, NJ 07003. (201) 338-5300. Always an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.
